Concentration of Troops Presaging War in Manchuria

Japanese Planes Drop Bombs on Temporary Capital of Manchurian War Lord With Undetermined Casualties—Tokio Making Strong Protest Against Anti-Jap Agitation

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Since morning Japanese bombers have been operating over Chinchow, where Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, Manchurian war lord, has established his temporary capital, and also the Japanese are concentrating the troops being withdrawn from other parts of Manchuria, according to a special dispatch to the Tokyo newspaper Nichi Nichi.

The purpose, it is said, is to subjugate the Chinese army using the city as a base of operations for disturbing the peace along the South Manchurian Railway.

SERIOUS POSSIBILITY
If this report is verified, with the bombing continuing, there is a possibility of the development of the most serious episode in the present situation. Chinchow, 147 miles southwest of Mukden, Manchurian capital, is approximately 100 miles west of the nearest point on the South Manchurian Railway.

Previous reports indicated that Chinese troops were moving toward Chinchow from the railway, without mentioning any menace to the railway. Though the bombing operations against scattered groups of Chinese soldiers were officially denied by the Mukden army headquarters during the first ten days succeeding the outbreak, the frequency of the reports from Japanese sources suggests truth.

Withdrawal of Japanese troops in the railway area is not significant, if planes are used to continue military operations veiled under the pretext of protection of Japanese interests.

PROTEST FROM TOKIO
No developments have been registered in Tokyo regarding the Manchurian question, though the Foreign Office is releasing late tonight the text of its protest to Nanking, believed to be strongly worded, against the anti-Japanese agitation throughout China.

CASUALTIES UNDETERMINED
PEIPING, China, Oct. 8 (AP).—J. O. Thomson, British Consul, reported today that twelve Japanese airplanes had dropped thirty-six bombs on a railway station, 150 miles south of Mukden, inflicting an undetermined number of casualties.

He said the bombs were chiefly directed at the University Buildings, which temporarily house the headquarters of the Manchurian Provincial Government. One bomb was said to have hit a railway engine, and killed two Chinese servants while another struck a locomotive shed. Telegraphic communication with the town was interrupted.

PUBLIC WORKS EXPERT HERE
Federal Members Advance Proposals in Conference With Architect

Representations of considerable importance to Victoria and Esquimalt were advanced to the Federal authorities yesterday, through D. B. Plunkett, M.P., and C. H. Dickie, M.P., who met T. W. Fuller, chief architect for the Dominion Public Works. Mr. Fuller is on the coast for a survey of public works for the Federal Government, with a view to investigating what work of a public nature may profitably be undertaken by the Dominion in relief of unemployment.

Mr. Plunkett dealt with matters in the Victoria area, but declined to reveal at this stage the substance of his proposals.

Mr. Dickie accompanied Mr. Fuller to the Esquimalt naval barracks and drydock, where the architect went carefully over the properties of the Dominion Government there. Later he inspected buildings in connection with the Marine Department, the Quarantine Station at William Head and other Dominion properties.

After completing his investigation Mr. Fuller will proceed to Nanaimo, in a continuation of his mission.

PREDATORY GOUGH DIES
LONDON, Oct. 8 (CP).—Predatory Alfred W. Gough, well known to many Canadians, died today after a long illness. He was eighty-nine years of age and had been prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral since 1918.

Premier's Daughter Will Open Father's Campaign
LONDON, Oct. 8 (CP).—Miss Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister, leaves London tomorrow to start her father's campaign in Beaham, Durham, for re-election to the House of Commons.

Mr. MacDonald will have a birthday breakfast—he is sixty-five years of age—on Monday—with his three daughters and others before Miss Isabel returns to London.

SAVED JOBS FOR WORKERS

Government Action on Dumping Duty Protected Canadian Employees

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP).—Thousands of Canadian workers and workwomen in factories would have been thrown out of work before the end of October if no remedial action had been taken. This is one of the declarations made by Hon. C. H. Cahan, Acting Minister of National Revenue, in a statement issued tonight, respecting the anti-dumping provisions imposed by order-in-council against imports from Great Britain under prevailing exchange rates.

The British products affected are only those of a class or kind made or produced in Canada.

Due provision had not been made by the Dominion Government, customs revenues would have been affected and the country compelled to borrow money to provide for increasing deficiencies in its customs revenues, Mr. Cahan further states.

PAY SAME PRICE
Canadian importers and consumers, the Acting Minister of National Revenue proceeds, continue to pay the same price for their imported British goods as they paid in Canadian currency prior to the recent devaluation in the pound sterling and before the recent ruling took effect.

The British preference, Mr. Cahan says, continues to be accorded British goods as it did before the collapse of the pound sterling.

Sailor Ships From Sea to Sea by Land
After traveling from Halifax to Victoria to give evidence for the Crown at the trial of R. C. Stewart, here, a petty officer of the Royal Canadian Navy goes back home today without having seen the inside of the courtroom. He was not called as a witness. The petty officer was stationed at the Naval Barracks here and went to Halifax to transfer to the coast.

He had only been in the Atlantic Coast city thirteen hours when he received an order to return to Victoria. When he reaches Halifax he will have crossed the continent three times in three weeks by "all rail"—and him a sailor.

DISCUSSION WAS FULL AND FRANK
No Definite Understanding, However, Reached Between Lord Reading and French Ministers

PARIS, Oct. 8 (AP).—Lord Reading, British Foreign Secretary, concluded his discussion of world financial problems with French statesmen today. He said no understanding had been reached since "we do not know what will happen in the future."

"I have explained to Premier Laval, Foreign Minister Briand and Minister of Finance Flaminio the situation in Great Britain, the direction in which we hope things will develop and how touched the British public is over the material aid the French have given us," Lord Reading said. "The French gave me an equally frank and full account of their views of the situation."

The British Government, he said, is exceedingly happy at the impending voyage of the French Premier to Washington. The part America can play in world reconstruction is enormous, he added.

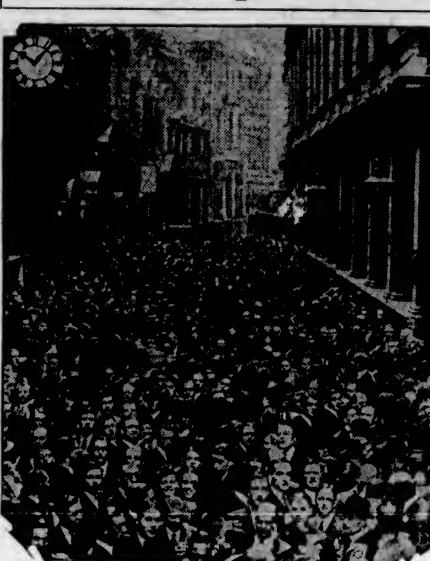

Lord Reading said he was unaware of any plan for Great Britain to be represented at the conversations between Premier Laval and President Hoover.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the British National Cabinet had decided to ask Parliament to pass a bill temporarily suspending the gold standard brought this huge, milling sea of humanity to Throgmorton Street, London, where the Stock Exchange is located. Here the Wall Street of London as it was filled to overflowing by vitally interested Britishers.

New Alliances in British Politics Causing Confusion

Multiplicity of Parties and Candidates Offering Allegiance to Government and Lack of Central Direction Mystifies Public—Lloyd George, Junior, Resigns

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Candidates for the British general election will be nominated on October 16. Had the times been anything like normal it would have been possible even today, the day after dissolution, to give a rough indication of the strength of each division assembled in line of battle, but nothing like that is feasible in the present confused circumstances.

Two resignations from the National Government mark the opening round of the great electoral battle. They are:

Major Gwyn Lloyd George, Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade.

Major Gwyn Lloyd George, Controller of the Household.

Both held only junior posts, but the resignation of Major Lloyd George is especially significant as indicating the attitude of his famous father, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George.

Except for the Labor party, united in opposition to the National Government forces, the marshaling of the candidates will be a task of no small importance.

MINISTER URGES USE OF SILVER
Hon. H. H. Stevens Says White Metal Can Restore World Trade

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP).—Gold alone as a basis for domestic currency and international exchange settlements is insufficient, said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address to the Empire Club today.

Mr. Stevens said he was convinced that a fiduciary currency, while highly convenient for international trade in times of peaceful stability, is subject to extreme fluctuations in periods of social or economic disturbance, and consequently could not be considered as a reliable measure of value.

A MOST VITAL ELEMENT
Silver was a most vital element in trade structure and still played an important part in the activities of a large portion of the world's population, he said.

"Restore silver to its ancient position as a companion with gold as the basis of a real and useable money," urged Mr. Stevens. "Open our eyes to the fact that silver is not a mere commodity, but a vital element in the economic life of two-thirds of the human race and open up to the nations of Western civilization those vast markets which by the wanton action of 1873, have been gradually but surely closing to your trade."

LOST ITS VALUE
Mr. Stevens pointed out that in 1873 Britain and Germany, followed later by France, Spain and Italy, denied to silver its ancient right of admittance to the mints of the world. Thus deprived of its use as money, he said, silver lost much of its value and became a mere commodity.

Mr. Stevens drew attention to the fact that money of the Orient was silver. They were a metallic money and, he said, silver lost much of its value and became a mere commodity.

FARMERS MAY NOW PLOUGH BY RADIO
NOBLEVILLE, Ind., Oct. 8 (AP).—It may not be long now before farmers throughout the country will be doing their ploughing by radio.

J. J. Lynch, of Miles City, Mont., demonstrated this possibility yesterday by ploughing around a thirty-acre field with a tractor operated by radio. Two hundred expert electricians, radio operators and businessmen from most of the Central States witnessed the demonstration.

British Conservatives Declare for Imperial Conference at Ottawa

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin Issues Manifesto in Support of Government

ADHERES TO TARIFF AS TRADE SOLUTION

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Hope that invitations to the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference, postponed some months ago, would be renewed and there would be a National Government in Britain to accept an invitation, was expressed by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, member of the National Cabinet, in his Conservative election manifesto tonight.

"The ideal of Imperial economic unity is widespread today, and I am confident the foundation of such unity will be well and truly laid with such a general assent of our people as would have seemed impossible but a few short years ago," the manifesto said.

Mr. Baldwin declared he would continue to press upon the electors his view that a tariff was the quickest and most effective way of redressing Britain's adverse balance of trade, which he termed the paramount problem at the moment.

TEXT OF MANIFESTO
Text of the Conservative election campaign manifesto issued by Mr. Stanley Baldwin follows:

"It is barely two months since my decision to join the National Government was unanimously endorsed at a meeting of members of Parliament and candidates held at Kingsway Hall, in London. At the time we expected the co-operation then secured would last for only a few weeks, but recent events have rendered it necessary in my view that the period of this co-operation should be extended.

"The budget has been balanced. Borrowing has been stopped at the cost of sacrifices from every class of the community, sacrifices which are heavy but which I hope and believe, at the result of continuing our policy, may be temporary. But we have not yet balanced the trade account of the nation. In other words, we are not yet saving enough to pay for what we have to buy overseas. Unless this position is corrected, our country will be ruined."

Corporation Capital Now Subscribed
NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP).—Bankers tonight completed organization of the $100,000,000 credit corporation introduced by President Hoover as a means of relieving the strain of the country's banks.

The name of the organization is to be the National Credit Corporation. How much of the capital has been subscribed was not announced. Mr. Hoover said the response from the country's banks, which have been asked to participate, had been satisfactory and articles of incorporation would be filed at Dover, Delaware, tomorrow.

CALGARY, Oct. 8 (CP).—Pessimistic prospectors who hesitated to race in the trail of Indians to Alberta's latest gold strike yesterday were switching to optimism tonight and the coming week-end is expected to bring an exodus from Calgary to the Fallen Timber Creek area.

Reports by the analysts at the Institute of Technology and Art said gold was evident, and that some of the nuggets were pure gold.

More than $300,000 will go to help working mothers and their children here. The gold loving couple in recognition of his sportsmanship, was left to the New York Yacht Club.

Plans to Give Untouchables Equal Rights
By NEOLLEY PARSON (Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

LONDON, Oct. 8.—"If India gets independence, the first laws that I shall introduce in the Legislature will be those making it a penal offense for any Indian to take any act to enforce untouchability. All public temples will be thrown open to the so-called untouchables, as well as being made their common property, together with the rest of a village. All political positions and all trades must be thrown open to them. These laws will make it a prison offense, without option of a fine, for any Indian who disregards them."

DISARMAMENT IS PRICE FOR DEBT RELIEF

President Hoover Expected to Demand Drastic Reduction at Conference

FRENCH BANK HEADS TO VISIT WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Drastic European disarmament is the price for which the United States is holding further relief from the war debts owed by Europe. It became increasingly clear today that this understanding will be sought by President Herbert Hoover in his forthcoming conference with Premier Pierre Laval of France.

It also became evident that disarmament and its related subject of a naval holiday will be linked with war debts and the world financial situation as the principal topic of the Hoover-Laval meeting.

DISCUSSED FINANCES
World finances formed the basis for the conversations today between Lord Reading, British Foreign Secretary, and Premier Laval, in Paris, where it was stated "We do not know what will happen in the future."

At the same time two high officials of the Bank of France left for the United States. There were predictions they would join in the Hoover-Laval discussions.

Second-day reactions from the president's discussion of this subject with congressional leaders at Tuesday night's conference, also indicated that Congress is reserving judgment on an extension of the moratorium to see what may be gained in the way of disarmament from Europe.

SOME OPPOSE EXTENSION
Senator Bingham, Republican, of Connecticut, one of those attending the White House party, emphatically asserted today that only two or three of the congressional conferees had definitely opposed any extension of the moratorium.

It is agreed that many bankers, particularly those with foreign investments, are anxious for an extension of the moratorium. Aside from this, it is also true that many financial experts in the Government and in Congress believe Germany will be in little better condition next July to meet reparations than she was last July when the moratorium was put into effect.

URGES DEFINITE HALT IN ARMING
General Smuts Says Reversal in Policy of Armaments Vital

SHEPHERD, Eng., Oct. 8 (CP).—A rallying speech in the cause of international disarmament was delivered at Sheffield University this evening by General the Rt. Hon. Jan C. Smuts, distinguished South African soldier and statesman, and president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Declaring that unless a real measure of disarmament puts an end to the present "arm race," the world was making for a cataclysm infinitely worse than the Great War, General Smuts said he did not think it a matter of life and death that spectacular success should mark the coming world disarmament conference.

IS MORE IMPORTANT
Most important of all was that there should be a definite halt to further armaments, and a definite reversal of the policy of increased armaments hitherto pursued, he said.

"Control and limitation are the steps immediately called for, to be followed up by ever-increasing reductions," he declared. "If once the policy of armaments is definitely arrested, and armaments, instead of growing, are progressively limited, the critical step will have been taken, and the future reductions will become progressively easier with the improvement of the international atmosphere and the decay of the old war mentality."

TAX LAWS WILL BE CONSIDERED

British Columbia to Send Delegates to Calgary Gathering on October 19

British Columbia is prepared to discuss provincial legislation bearing on taxation, and join with other Western Provinces in seeking a clearer definition of the respective fields of Dominion and Provincial taxation, it was intimated yesterday by Premier Terasa. Delegates from the British Columbia Government will be sent to the Calgary Conference on October 19.

No reference was made by the Premier to the proposed gathering to take place in November at Regina to discuss the further question of adjustment between creditors and debtors in the four Western Provinces. It is presumed, however, that plans for the Regina meeting will be discussed at the prior gathering. Regina dispatches yesterday said the Saskatchewan Government was preparing invitations to Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia to an economic conference "to bring about a general and uniform scheme of adjustments between debtors and creditors" in the four Western Provinces. Banks, loan companies, implement makers, and retail merchants' associations would be represented at the gathering, it was indicated.

Federal and provincial consideration of a suggested probe into gasoline prices may be brought before the Western conference to be held at Calgary on October 19, the Regina dispatches indicated.

At the moment the Labor position has more than five hundred candidates in the field. On the other hand the Conservative candidates number about five hundred. To these may be added thirteen members of the old Labor party who remained true to the National Government, and another thirty candidates added to these. Liberal members of the old Parliament who have rallied around Sir John Simon in support of the National Government number twenty-five and could draw a couple of dozen recruits if some contribution to their personal expenses was made. Roughly, a total of 600 candidates for the Government.

SITS ON WAR CHEST
Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George is understood to have refused any aid from the Liberal war chest for those Liberal candidates supporting the National Government. What the strength of the Lloyd Georgeian Liberal candidates will be is uncertain, although it is expected to put twenty or thirty in the field, pledged to free trade.

Quite a number of Conservatives have already announced they will not stand for re-election. Today's list includes Sir Burton Chadwick, who represented Wallasey; Sir Walter de Frece, of Blackpool; William Henderson, second son of the Opposition Leader, who will confine himself to party publicity work; and Stanley Baldwin, the Socialist, who resigned from the Labor party early this year.

To Organize Twelve Line Ship Merger

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP).—The Herald-Tribune says steps to organize a merger of twelve American and foreign shipping companies owning and controlling 181 passenger and cargo liners, with a total of 1,500,000 gross tons, were taken at a meeting today in San Francisco.

The meeting, the newspaper says, was attended by Herbert Fletchbacher (Pacific Coast banker), Captain Robert Dollar, R. Stanley Dolan, and Karl Roosevelt and John M. Franklin.

They considered a union of the shipping properties of the Roosevelt, Dollar, Chapman and Dawson interests.

The merger, it concluded, the paper said, would be the biggest in the history of American shipping.

INTEREST AT TRIAL
Stewart attracted additional interest to himself by his determination to conduct his own defence and throughout the trial he was given complete liberty in the Courtroom. In the courtroom he conducted his own defence and throughout the trial he was given complete liberty in the Courtroom.

IMPERIAL TREATIES
"And to this end we should make Imperial treaties which may be of enormous value to us as a nation. We shall require such a free hand as will enable us to impose prohibitions, quotas or duties as may be most effective in the circumstances."

"The problem of the Empire is to secure the economic unity for which we have so long striven. I hope the reasons which led to the suspension of the Ottawa conference have been overcome and that it will be possible for the Canadian Government to renew its invitation."

"We shall then have a unique opportunity before us in the fact that it will fall to a National Government to accept that invitation."

NOTED PROFESSOR TO ADDRESS CLUB

R. K. Sandwell, B.A., F.R.S.C., of Quebec, to Speak Here on "Unemployment Insurance"

Professor Bernard Kebble Sandwell, B.A., F.R.S.C., of Westmont, Que., will address the Canadian Club luncheon here on Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock in the Empress Hotel, on "Unemployment Insurance."

Mr. Sandwell is now on a tour of the West and is visiting all Canadian clubs. He is travelling under the auspices of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Mr. Sandwell is widely known through Canada as a lecturer, writer and humorist. From 1919 until 1923 he was assistant professor of economics at McGill University, after which he returned to journalism work, in which he had been engaged prior to accepting the university post. In 1923 he was elected a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and is also a member of the Royal Economic Society of Great Britain.

Mr. Sandwell came to Canada in early life and was educated at the Upper Canada College and Toronto University, obtaining his Bachelor of Arts degree at the latter institution in 1897.

In his early days in journalism, from 1905 to 1911, he wrote under the nom de plume of "Monday Night," and his writings in Eastern papers at that time were widely read. From 1911 to 1918, he was first associate editor and later editor of The Montreal Financial Times, following which he took up economics at McGill.

URGES SPIRIT OF LOYALTY

D. B. Plunkett, M.P., Tells Rotarians Need of Greater National Sentiment

"A Canadian spirit and sentiment can only be built and maintained by a deep attachment and belief in Canadian ideals," declared D. B. Plunkett, M.P., for Victoria, during an address on "A Canadian National Spirit" at the Rotary Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"Canada must come first in our thoughts, and not be made subservient to any foreign power by permitting their national life to enter and absorb our own," he said.

Canadian history shows no country so rich in material from which to draw inspiration, Mr. Plunkett continued, in telling of the achievements in various fields by Canadian citizens.

Inspiration for literature was plentiful in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Hudson's Bay Company, old Quebec and its inhabitants, the plains of the Prairie Provinces, and the whole Dominion from sea to sea, he said. References to the also made to the Canadian authors whose beautiful works will live long in the memory of the Dominion. Many of these works, he said, were lost to Canadian citizenship through lack of home appreciation.

TRIBUTE TO ARMIES

Tribute was paid by the speaker to the armies of the Dominion and the great leaders who have come from them. The development of such armies, and outstanding leaders, in such a short national period, had been a great achievement, he felt.

Canada's contribution to the Great War, in both money and man, was also creditable, he said, and particularly the work of the Canadian airmen. Four of the first ten leading pilots of the war were Canadians, he told the gathering, naming the men and their achievements. Canada supplied one-third of the pilots in action with the British air force, and the heroic valor and indomitable courage of these men will ever be a beacon of strength to Canadian manhood of the future.

SPORT COMMERCIALIZED

The work of Canadians in art, medicine and sport, was also commended by the speaker. Though, he said, in the latter, "our national games of lacrosse and hockey are being sadly commercialized."

The development of a standard Canadian National Anthem was urged by Mr. Plunkett, who said it was a great regret to visit some Canadian cities and hear more versions of "O Canada" and "The Maple Leaf."

The speaker was introduced by J. R. Kingham and a vote of thanks was extended by President Percy Watson.

Vocal selections by G. Donald Gray, accompanied by Miss Irene Irvine, were well received by the members.

U.S. RAILS CUT APPLE FREIGHTS

Wenatchee and Yakima Districts to Benefit From Low Export Rate

Effective November 4, Washington apple growers are to have the benefit of a new low export rate on boxed apples of 22 1/2 cents per 100 pounds over the Great Northern and Northern Pacific lines, it was learned here yesterday. The former rate was 28 1/2 cents per 100 pounds. The change gives United States producers a material advantage in freight rates over their Canadian neighbors in British Columbia interior points.

Wenatchee and Yakima districts will benefit, while outlets at Seattle and Portland will be rendered more accessible to fruitgrowers in these areas. The rate case was argued before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which decided in favor of the appeal of the growers.

The move is being watched with interest in British Columbia circles, particularly in regard to the effect on export trade to the United Kingdom points. Reduced rates, it was said in provincial circles, would mean a saving of 10 cents a box for the United States shippers.

UNDERWRITERS HEAR MINISTER

Dr. Clem Davies Speaks on Present Conditions and Way to Face Them

Declaring that there was a similarity between insurance agents and preachers, inasmuch as one sold life insurance and the other sold "fire" insurance, Dr. Clem Davies spoke before a luncheon gathering of the Victoria and District Life Underwriters' Association in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

Dr. Davies warned his audience against being either dyed-in-the-wool pessimists or Pollyanna optimists in such times of depression as the world is facing today.

"We should not ignore the fact that our Christian civilization so far has been based on greed and selfishness, and has brought us to our present pass," he said.

Dr. Davies considered that the Eirene strike had been improperly handled by authorities. He believed that the strikers should have been allowed to express their thoughts. In this manner trouble would have been avoided much in the same manner as Hyde Park acts as a safety valve in London.

After his address, the members held a round table discussion.

CHIROPRACTORS CHARGED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Seven city chiropractors, charged under the Medical Act with having practiced without licences, were remanded in police court today to October 14. Those charged are Walter Sturdy, J. H. Hepburn, W. J. Budnick, D. W. Campbell, Gilbert H. Young, G. F. Moore and H. S. Simonson.

TEACHER HOLDS RESPONSIBILITY

Dr. Peter Manniche, of International College, Denmark, Gives Address

Internationalism of thought and ideal precedes international understanding and the international friendship and harmony which is its corollary. And in wise education lies much of the secret of internationalism of thought.

This idea was advanced by Dr. Peter Manniche, of the International School at Elsinore, Denmark, in the informal talk which he gave before the afternoon meeting yesterday under the joint auspices of the High School and Elementary School Teachers' Associations of the city, the New Education Fellowship, and the National Council of Education, which originally sponsored his visit to the city. The address took place at Spencer's private dining-room, following tea. Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education for British Columbia, and Hugh Guthrie, of the local branch of the National Council of Education, respectively introduced and thanked the speaker.

"One of the most important duties which we are faced with at the present time is to try to educate people towards internationalism. If we don't do all we can to destroy war, war will destroy us. But the method is not to attempt to inculcate internationalism in our teaching, but rather to follow a form of education which will inevitably lead toward international co-operation. We live at present in an international world. In the economic sense, each country impinges on the other, and even the peasant and the fisherman bears evidence that he is a citizen of the world," he said in his prefatory remarks.

NOT INTERNATIONALIZED

Unfortunately the international idea had not yet thoroughly "taken on." It was of enormous importance through which channels effort was made to make the contact. Among the important events which were mentioned in disseminating the international idea were the press, the radio, the film, the church and the school. The film as developed in Europe was, he said, one of the most demoralizing factors in life, and in bears evidence that he is a citizen of the world."

An optician gets the prescription from the oculist or optometrist as to what is needed and grinds the glasses according to this prescription.

Now to whom should you go to have your eyes examined? Generally speaking, it is considered wise to consult the oculist if your eyes are bothering you, as it may not be a matter of eyesight, but some other condition in the body that is causing the eye trouble.

The oculist is in a better position to locate the cause of the trouble than the optometrist or optician, who, of course, are concerned with the vision only. And if it is the vision that is defective the oculist can prescribe the necessary glasses. However, if you are having no trouble with your eyes, but naturally would like to know if your eyes should be having any help owing to the nature of your work, or if you have no pain, but think your eyesight is failing, you can quite properly consult an optometrist. He can measure the needs of your eyes and fit you just as well as the oculist. He is absolutely safe, as most states and provinces require an examination in this work before he can call himself an optometrist.

What you should not do is walk into a store and fit glasses to your eyes and take a pair that you think suits you. Nor should you buy glasses from any vendor or salesman that calls at your home.

Your eyes are worth very much to you, and you should take no chances with them.

DEATH REMOVES CHURCH LEADER

Archbishop David Williams Passes in London—Active to Last

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP).—Word of the death at his home in London, Ontario, of Most Rev. David Williams, Archbishop of the Diocese of Huron and Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of Ontario, was received at Church House, Church of England headquarters in Toronto, yesterday. Archbishop Williams was found dead in bed, according to the information received here.

The death of Archbishop Williams removes one of the leaders of Anglican church life in Canada. Although in poor health and sorely in need of rest, Dr. Williams was active until his death. Early in September, while attending meetings of Anglican societies at Guelph, Archbishop Williams became ill through high blood pressure and heart trouble, and was unable to attend the General Synod of the church in Toronto during the next two weeks.

Archbishop Williams returned to his home in London, and it was expected he would take a complete rest. Recently, however, he had attended to some of his pastoral duties.

Funeral services will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon. Interment will be in Woodland Cemetery.

Archbishop Williams is survived by three sons, D. H. Williams, of Halifax, N.S.; B. I. Williams, of London; and A. R. Williams, of Detroit; and three daughters, Mrs. W. R. Smith, of Toronto; Mrs. C. O. Noyes, of London; and Gwen Williams, who has been keeping house for him and who met learned of his death.

DUBLIN VISITOR TALKS TO SCHOOL

Rev. Brother Noonan Addresses Students of St. Louis College in School Ideals

Rev. Brother Noonan addressed the student body of St. Louis College in a farewell talk at noon yesterday. He complimented them on their beautiful new school, and said that in his extensive travels through four continents he had seen no school so admirably suited for its purposes.

The glory of a school, however, was not so much its architectural grandeur or interior appointments as the type of pupil it produced—on this, principally, depended its ultimate success as an educational establishment. Hence it behooved the students of the college to be gentlemen in every sense of the word; to be affable and kind to all; to be considerate to the weak and poor.

Today the speaker, added, the great question confronting the young is, "What am I going to be?" Rather should it be, "What am I going to do?" For by deeds was one's life ordered, and hence the youth of any country could best serve that country by exemplary conduct, by due respect for the higher authorities, the law of the land and the general well being.

Brother Noonan regretted that his stay in Victoria was necessarily very brief, but he added that he would carry away with him most agreeable memories of all he had seen here. He left for Seattle by the afternoon boat yesterday, en route for New York.

E. B. JONES ELECTED HEAD OF FAIRFIELD SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The new officers elected at the recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Sir James Douglas School were: President, E. B. Jones, vice-president, Mrs. D. P. Maunsell; second vice-president, R. V. James; treasurer, Mrs. Fairweather; and recording secretary, A. B. McKelvie. An executive committee consisting of Mrs. Maunsell, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Moffitt, Mrs. Cameron, Miss Bowes, Mrs. Bowden and W. H. Wilson, principal of the school, moved a vote of thanks to the retiring president and secretary.

During the course of the evening plans were laid for the annual bazaar, to be held on November 23, and a committee of five was detailed to arrange for it.

The association decided to send a letter to the School Board asking that the school grounds be properly drained and surfaced, as they were dangerous to the welfare of the children in their present state.

Mrs. Kilsby, retiring secretary of the organization, informed the members that Sir James Douglas was the first Victoria school ever to send delegates to the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation convention, and expressed the hope that the members would continue to follow this course.

GERMAN POLITICS

Germany is undergoing a Cabinet crisis, and in some respects it is not unlike that which has happened in Britain, though from different causes. Chancellor Brüning is forming a new Cabinet, drawn from several of the different parties; in other words, he is to have a National Government, but its future is clouded with uncertainty. The fall of the German Cabinet has been due to the fact that the Reichstag is to meet next week, and Chancellor Brüning has been bombarded with conflicting demands from various parties and interests. The industrialists want a general reduction in the wage scale. The Socialists are opposed to this proposal. One wage reduction, that of 7 per cent in the coal industry of the Ruhr district, has aroused a lot of dissatisfaction among the Socialists.

The Socialist Party in Germany, which has been the main supporter of the Chancellor, is facing a split in its ranks. This has led to the expulsion of two deputies because of their radicalism and their defiance of the party's discipline. There is now talk of forming an independent Socialist Party, which is felt to be warranted owing to the constant growth of dissatisfaction among the rank and file of the existing organization. The Brüning Cabinet that has resigned was in the throes of a controversy as to whether it should go to the right or the left. First, Foreign Minister Curtius was driven from office, and now Chancellor Brüning has been forced to dissolve the Cabinet and has announced his intention of forming a National Government.

There is a very unsettled state of affairs in Germany, apart from the political differences noted. New cases of political bloodshed are cropping up all the time. The Nazis are very active. They have been encouraged by their successes in the municipal elections and believe that they are gaining strength throughout the country. It is the Nazis, indeed, that are responsible to the greatest degree for the political unrest in the country. In fact, there are some indications which indicate the possibility of civil war ensuing, unless the Government takes a strong grip on the situation. It is this realization which has made Chancellor Brüning attempt to cement political differences by calling representatives of as many parties as possible to his Government. The outcome may have an important bearing on the future of Germany, where at the moment there is more than the average amount of political unrest.

INQUIRY INTO CHIROPRACTIC

Mr. Justice Murphy has been appointed as a Commissioner to inquire into drugless healing and chiropractic with a view to submitting a report to the Provincial Government, which, presumably, will in turn devise legislation to govern these practices hereafter. In the terms of the reference the inquiry in the case of drugless healers is to be a wide open one; on the other hand, that affecting chiropractors is restricted. In the latter instance the Commissioner, according to the scope of his inquiry, will not be able to go into such questions as the qualifications and competency of chiropractors to diagnose in a thorough fashion and to treat the various diseases. In an inquiry of this character it is axiomatic that the public interest should be considered in all its bearings. The extent to which chiropractors are to be recognized by legislation is a matter of deep public interest, especially in regard to their knowledge, competency and qualifications.

As long ago as 1921 both chiropractors and drugless healers presented bills to the Legislature. A special committee made an exhaustive inquiry and presented a report on March 22, 1921. That report pointed out the difficulty, on the basis of the evidence submitted (oral and documentary), of ascertaining "the educational standards or scientific knowledge of those who profess to find in the practice of chiropractic and drugless healing a cure for a great many, if not all, ills." In effect, the committee found it impossible to say if the medical attainments of those asking for a change in the law were sufficiently high. The fact was emphasized that the health and safety of the public are involved in the indiscriminate application of theories such as those of drugless healing and chiropractic to the cure of disease. It was pointed out that the fundamental requirement in the treatment of disease is ability to make a diagnosis. Before attempting a cure it is essential to know what the trouble is, so that there is involved a knowledge of and study of certain standard subjects.

In respect to the qualifications necessary for the study of disease, Mr. Justice Hodgins, of Ontario, in an inquiry into chiropractic, said: "I cannot bring myself to the point of accepting, as part of our legalized medical provision for the sick, a system which denies the need of diagnosis, refers 95 per cent of disease to one and the same cause and turn its back resolutely upon all modern medical scientific methods as being founded on nothing and unworthy even to be discussed." In this statement the special committee of British Columbia's Legislature concurred in 1921. It did not reach a conclusion that drugless healers and chiropractors should be prevented from practicing. It found, however, that they should pass an examination satisfactory to the Medical Council on such primary subjects as anatomy, physiology, neurology, physical diagnosis, obstetrics, chemistry, toxicology, pathology, bacteriology, histology, gynecology, minor surgery, hygiene and the principles and practice of chiropractic. Moreover, the conclusion reached was that before taking this examination the said applicants for the right to practice should be graduates of a recognized school or college of chiropractic which at least teaches a residence course of three years of six months each year.

The Medical Act was amended along the foregoing lines in 1921. The following year an act was passed which provided for chiropractors being allowed to practice their profession for reward upon their passing examinations upon the same subjects as were provided for in the 1921 amendment, with the exception of medical jurisprudence. Since that year there have been various demands for new legislation. Now a commission has been issued to Mr. Justice Murphy to hold an inquiry and put forward subsequent recommendations upon which legislation can be based. This is necessary because the provisions of the Medical Act dealing with chiropractors have never been invoked. Mr. Justice Murphy is to ascertain "who of those now practicing as chiropractors in the province are duly qualified chiropractors within the meaning of the Medical Act." He is further to inquire, "whether or not any or all of the recognized schools or colleges of chiropractic, within the meaning of the Medical Act, of which the said duly qualified chiropractors now practicing in the province are graduates, give courses in the subjects required for the practice of chiropractic, which are adequate to protect the public when undergoing from such persons treatment solely confined to the practice of chiropractic."

It is true that the inquiry can lead to recommendations in the interest of the public, as to the method of determining the qualifications to which to submit subsequent applicants to practice chiropractic. It is not clear, that the same qualifications must apply to existing practitioners. The scope of the inquiry relating to chiropractic should be enlarged to inquire into all matters properly incidental to the subject. No one can logically object to a course of this character being followed. Where public health is at issue too many precautions cannot be taken. The Government of British Columbia, by virtue of its own Department of Health, has a definite duty to the public to protect their physical well-being in all respects. Chiropractic must be open to all investigation if new legislation that is to be observed in relation to this science is to be placed on the statute books of the province.

A STRONG PERSONALITY

Rapid changes are taking place in the personnel of the Canadian Anglican episcopate. Within the last two years Archbishop Matheson, who was Primate of Canada; Bishop Lloyd, of Saskatchewan; Bishop Gray, of Edmonton, and Bishop Robins, of Athabasca, have retired from active service. Now the ranks of the church's leaders are broken by the death at London, Ont., of the Most Rev. David Williams, Archbishop of Huron and Metropolitan of the ecclesiastical Province of Ontario. A dominant personality, gifted with the Celtic power of speech, and strong in executive ability, the late Dr. Williams played a large part in the life of his church and of Eastern Canada during the past three decades. The General Synod, which held its session recently, must have missed his wise and forceful counsel.

Of a distinctly evangelical temper and broad in his interests, the late Archbishop earnestly promoted the cause of missions and social welfare. He welcomed to his diocese the evangelists of the Church Army. To quote one of his utterances, he believed in the "extension of the sovereignty of Christ over the whole of life, personal, social, industrial, national." His conception of the religious life was that "individual Christians do not stand alone in this world, but that they are members of a body, and that every member has a work to do in that body." That these principles were exemplified in the life of this late leader will be the testimony of a church that mourns his loss.

An International Hair Dressing Congress, held in Paris, has decided that women are to wear their hair short with ear lobes exposed. The dictum even goes into particulars as to how it should be worn. It must be drawn back from the cheeks, and waves or curls will appear low on the back of the head and on the neck. The question of long versus short hair aroused a heated controversy, but in the end the advocates of the latter were given a routing vote of confidence. There was a hair dressing contest at the Congress at which the first prize went to England, the second to Germany and the third to France.

The noblest question in the world is, "What good may I do in it?"—Benjamin Franklin.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Together let us beat this empty drum,
Tyrant what the spirit, and what the covert yield.

For Nature walks about fully as it flies,
And catches the manner of its rise,
Laugh where we must, be candid where we can,
And vindicate the ways of God to man.
—Pope.

The condition of the world today from a business point of view reminds us of the alleged condition of the world millions of years ago, more or less, probably more, from a meteorological point of view. Learning scientists and investigators tell us that millions of years ago, in certain parts of the world everything was frozen solid. Because of those physical conditions we have the term "ice age." In process of time, under the influence of the waxing heat of the sun the ice began to melt, streams began to flow, and chaos yielded place to the ordered beauty of the present day. Life in abundance succeeded desolation, vegetable life first and animal life in due time, and of course man became the lord of the new creation and ruled triumphantly over his prosperous kingdom.

Authorities who professed to be learned in the science of government and economics tell us that the business world of the present day has encountered a period of depression because almost everything essential to progress and prosperity has become frozen. Gold is frozen, credit is frozen, enterprise is frozen, and consequently all the streams of business are dried up. There is only one stream that is flowing freely. That is the stream of talk, and it is flowing in great volume. Everywhere people are talking about what must be done to get the world out of the business ice age; about what must be done to melt the frozen elements necessary to prosperity in business, and to produce the conditions which a former more or less distinguished President of the United States described as circumstances of normality.

As the physical ice age did not pass as a result of holding meetings, indulging in discussions and passing resolutions, but by purely natural processes, we are somewhat sceptical about the business ice age passing away except by the passage of time and purely natural processes. Still, there is no doubt at all that the business depression is a consequence of economic excesses, there is a possibility that the conditions which have brought upon themselves the measures which will contract the evils of over-speculation and the orgies of extravagance.

The attitude of leaders in politics and business when they discuss the business ice age and propose remedies to melt the frost are interesting. The President of the United States blames the depression upon excesses in the continent of Europe. In a statement issued recently, Mr. Hoover stated that business could never become normal until Europe had ceased to stagger under the load of debts contracted during the war, discarded the burden of armaments and other vain things, and planted her feet upon the solid ground of reason and common sense. The depression in America is the natural consequence of the depression in Europe, and that business in America can never be the same again until property becomes the possession of Europe.

On the other hand, a British business authority who is quite as competent as President Hoover has declared that the depression in Europe is a natural consequence of the depression in America; that the future prosperity of the whole world is dependent upon the restoration of prosperity in the United States, and that as the United States hopes for the restoration of prosperity, she must modify her attitude towards reparations (which have impoverished Europe), abandon her position as a hermit in the business world, and adopt a less exclusive policy in her general relations with her neighbors.

If the matter of the modification of the policies of the United States were entirely in the hands of President Hoover, there might be some chance for realization of the dream of the statesmen of Europe. But the President is not master in his own house, and he is far from all a politician. He is a candidate for President in the election which will be held next year. As a practical politician Mr. Hoover knows that if he were to make abolition or even modification of reparations a plank in his political platform he would have no more chance of being elected for a second term than the ex-Kaiser has of becoming Emperor of Germany. The American people are a generous people, but in the United States generosity and politics are like oil and water—they do not mix. If such a "proposition" were put before the electors of the United States by the President, Mr. Hoover would become a frozen political asset and be placed in permanent cold storage.

So that if the prosperity of the world is to be speedily restored instead of waiting until it comes about by natural processes (as assuredly it will come in process of time), such a miracle will never be accomplished by mixing the restorative with American politics.

BEER LICENCES

Sir,—At the monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association, a resolution was passed to the effect that the following letter should be published:

"H. R. Thompson, Esq.,
Chairman, Liquor Control Board,
Victoria, B.C."

"Dear Sir,—At a recent meeting of the Ministerial Association of this city, the president, Rev. W. R. Brown, reported that he had in the interval of our meeting written to the Hon. the Attorney-General to enter an interim protest on behalf of the association against the issuing of any more liquor licences to places situated on the Island Highway and to the Four Mile House in particular."

"I am instructed to write to you to say that the association fully endorses the protest of our president and is unanimously of opinion that already there are too many places along the highway where beer may be obtained, and we particularly deplore the issuance of a licence to the Four Mile House, situated as it is on a hill and at a dangerous turn of the road."

"We feel that the public well-being is at stake and the importance of this connection, and we are satisfied that our views on this matter are endorsed by the great body of responsible citizens."

"H. P. S. LUTTRELL,
Chairman, Special Resolution
Committee, Ministerial Association,
22 Linden Avenue, Victoria, B.C.,
October 7, 1931."

THE DEAF AND THE BLIND

Sir,—In resuming its adverse arguments against the Government's undertaking of the combined education of deaf and blind children, such as is attempted at the Vancouver institution, the Western Canada Association of the Deaf offers for the consideration of the public another qualified commentary. The following letter is from Mr. M. McManaway, superintendent of the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind, which has operated as a joint school since 1909:

"It is my experience that the two groups of children have very few points in common. There is less in common between these two groups than between either group and the average child in the public school. In this school under my supervision there are two separate organizations. One is the school for the deaf, with more than 200 enrolled, a separate faculty and a separate principal, separate arrangements, separate organization throughout, and other a separate one for children who are blind. We are handicapped in not having a separate dining room for the two groups and separate playgrounds."

"My own attitude is perhaps best indicated by the fact that for the past eight or nine years I have here I have worked to secure a separate school for the blind, recommending that there be established an entirely separate institution, with an entirely separate superintendent. On the basis of this recommendation, and after careful investigation, the General Assembly several years ago adopted a statute providing for a separate school for the blind at Charlottetown, under a separate board of visitors, and the site for the new school was purchased out of an appropriation made by the General Assembly."

"Economy alone would justify the establishment of a joint school for these two widely different groups of children, and from the standpoint of efficiency and practical administration, I am seriously doubtful if real economy is effected by such an arrangement. The problems of either group are sufficiently complex and complex to demand the best of energy and effort of any one man."

DAVID PEIKOFF,
Director, W.C.A.D.,

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Sir,—Concerning yesterday's report of the council meeting, if the press have reported correctly, I wish to contradict the statement that some of the men had left work to demonstrate. Being employed on one of the gangs, I can say with emphasis that not one single man left his work to demonstrate. The only men that were absent were men who had previously asked the foreman's permission for absence to receive medical and dental treatment."

A delegation that waited upon the mayor had decided to await the mayor's answer, which was promised for Wednesday or Thursday. The men had decided, until word had been received from the mayor regarding their demand for $2 per week to demonstrate. Evidently on mischief bent, with the intention of fomenting trouble, someone must have turned in this false report that men had "left work to demonstrate." This is the kind of action we unemployed men resent. It misrepresents our case and blackens us among those who should be our friends."

If the Mayor has any intention of granting the $2, why does he not show good faith and order that it be paid forthwith, seeing that, according to press reports, the Council is in favor of it?

Why wait until next week when men are in dire need of shoes and clothing? As for firing rifles and well, there were none. Every man was his own leader. I might add that no intention was resorted to, and that the men were responsible, and on Thursday there will be $2 instead of $1.40 in the pay envelope.

PELAGIC SEALING CLAIMS

Sir,—Much confusion appears to exist among the hundreds of persons interested in a settlement of the Pelagic sealing claims, owing to an application that was made to Mr. Justice McLean, of the Exchequer Court of Canada, a few days ago. This, the steamer Coquitlam, having fur seal pelts aboard was seized by a United States cutter, and after investigation, the seizure was found to be illegal, and the United States paid to Canada a sum to cover the damages and this money is now being applied for.

The Coquitlam case has nothing whatever to do with the general claims that have been before the Canadian Parliament for settlement since the treaty of 1911.

A. J. PATTON,
Solicitor for Claimants,
705 Bank of Toronto Bldg., Victoria, B.C., October 8, 1931.

GREAT BRITAIN'S DEBT

Sir,—In addition to my inability to see how Great Britain's debt is reduced by her departure from the gold standard, I am now laboring under the further inability to see any connection between the point at issue and the time, place, personnel or domicile of the various debtors and creditors.

It appears, from Professor Farr's reply to my letter, that so far as external debts are concerned, Britain's debts are not reduced, but that as far as internal debts are concerned, they are. I wonder which Professor Farr had in mind when he mentioned $134.

These internal debts, if I am not mistaken, are pledged in the form of bonds, and perhaps now, on account of Britain's prestige, owed internationally. But as supposed they have all remained at home. Is it Professor Farr's contention that if they fall to half price on the London market, the use to redeem our internal debts? The fact that the pound depreciates in terms of other currencies, say the dollar, does not in the least alter the relation of pounds to pounds in Britain. So that I cannot see Professor Farr's contention that "the greater the depreciation of the pound, the lower falls Britain's capital and interest payments." In fact, no matter where the recipient lives, Britain has to pay $1.00 on a 4 per cent bond, no matter in what currency it is reckoned.

Professor Farr goes on to say that "if as Mr. Campbell says, the pound should drop to zero, the pound would owe anything at all." I say nothing of the kind. I say that this is the logical conclusion if Professor Farr's contention is correct. But Professor Farr seems to confuse "debts" with "ability to pay."

To cite Russia and Germany is beside the question. Russia reconstructed her whole economic system, Germany, her mark falling to zero, was recuperated by stupendous loans, and the mark having been stabilized, her internal debts were ignored. Her position as a conquered nation was totally different from that of Britain.

M. L. CAMPBELL,
2719 Mount Stephen Avenue, Victoria, B.C., October 6, 1931.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaels

SOMETHING BETTER
Oh, beauty is seen at the heart of the world,
And it flowers on every hand,
As it flutters like a flag unfurled
In the wonders of sea and land!

And men's eyes are gladdened by mountain heights
And the glory of dusk and morn,
By the changeful cycle of earth's delights
That ever afresh are born.

But something is fairer than aught
they see
As they pass through the maze of the days,
There is something touched with divinity.

Not akin to the world and its ways
It is something apart from man's fleshly garb,
Something better than all the rest,
That flinches never from good or bad,
Nor falters at any test.

At the heart of the world there is beauty shown,
And it flowers throughout the whole,
But the rarest loveliness earth has known
Is the bloom of the valiant soul!

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 9:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 2 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

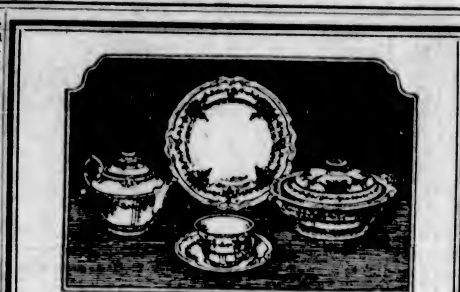

The creative worker will have great possibilities on October 9, according to what the stars foretell. All those with mechanical or electrical interests will begin upon any ideas that may occur to them for new devices, inventions and processes. Breakers lie ahead for married couples, and mutual tolerance and confidence will be necessary in order to avoid friction.

A child born on this October 9 will possess considerable latent talent, and will be courageous and energetic. Its passions will be liable to get it into trouble, and it must be taught the lesson of self-control. Its love will be wholehearted, but it will always strongly resent any interference with its individualism.

You, if born on October 9, have a very strong character, rather domineering and set in your ways, but, it must be admitted, generally right. You value the good opinion of others very highly, and will go out of your way to secure this. In much that you do you seem to work for the applause you hope to receive, and not for the sake of the work itself. There is a suggestion of "stagnation" about you. Yet, although in love with the ill-fated, you accomplish much that is worth while.

Although materialistic in a marked degree, you are interested in things psychic, even though generally ashamed to admit it. If a woman, you are superstitious, and try to hide it. Love affairs occupy a large share of your thoughts, and you are always building castles in the air, with yourself as the fairy princess. You, too, in conversation have an unfortunate habit of exaggeration, which at times is anything but convincing.

Nearly 10,000 members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians recently held their annual parade in Edinburgh.

FRANCONIA TO BE OVERHAULED

Popular Cunard Ship Will Leave Furness Bermuda Service and Proceed to England

In order that the Cunard Franconia may be placed in perfect condition for her tour around the world, sailing from New York, January 9, this steamer will leave the Furness Bermuda service on October 21, and will proceed to England on October 24 for a complete overhaul.

A number of groups will precede the Franconia to Mediterranean ports, boarding the steamer at New Orleans, with a few passengers joining the ship in Egypt.

The Franconia has made an enviable name for herself in the Bermuda service, carrying capacity lists during the entire season. She will be replaced on this route by the Cunard Carinthia, which will remain in this service until the Bermuda returns in January. The Carinthia is a sister ship of the Franconia.

The draw for prize winning names in the Fada Radio Public Showing Contest took place, with Weston Wrigley, R. C. Poulter and W. J. Baxter officiating as judges. The contest was thrown open to the Dominion, and thousands of entries were received from all parts of Canada. The winners received a model each of the new Fada Superheterodyne Receivers. ## CONFUCIUS DAY IS CELEBRATED

Oriental Bands Play Motif in Chinatown in Honor of Great Philosopher

Drums were beaten and one-stringed instruments emitted plaintive sounds from a dozen long headquarters in Chinatown yesterday in celebration of the birth of Confucius, philosopher and educator.

Flags of the Nationalist Government flew from the flagpoles of the Chinese schools and other institutions, while ceremonies were held at the night school class in the Oriental section.

It was a gala day for both old and young, and the celebration continued until the small hours of the morning.

PURCHASES BIG TIMBER TRACTS

Frank J. D. Barnjum Adds to His Holdings of Douglas Fir on Island

FRANK J. D. BARNJUM

Frank J. D. Barnjum, Canada's greatest timber conservationist, has purchased another tract of virgin growth big trees in the Sahtium district of Vancouver Island to add to his already large holdings on the island. The tract was purchased through the office of R. W. Hibberson, forestry engineer. These tracts, now held by Mr. Barnjum, contain some of the largest Douglas fir trees remaining on the Pacific Coast, some of which measure twelve feet in diameter, and 300 feet in height and are 900 or more years of age.

Mr. Barnjum says, after noting the outrageous destruction that is now taking place in the Cameron Lake tract, the most attractive remaining piece of timber on Vancouver Island, that he will not rest till he has saved from the axe the few remaining tracts of these big trees in the Cowichan Lake district. The only way that this seems possible, he declares, is through their immediate purchase, as otherwise they will all have disappeared in a comparatively short time at the rate they are now being cut.

He says the cutting down of aged old giants is as wicked, and senseless, as it would be to tear down the Pyramids of Egypt, as these magnificent trees will soon be just as rare and scarce as pyramids.

The Cameron Lake district is the only remaining piece of virgin timber on the Vancouver Island highway.

The earliest possible start on widening of roads, which are to include bridge trails was recommended by P. B. Emerton, who stressed the point that the municipalities of Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich will create and keep open trails at less cost than would be the case if they were left to the municipalities.

The fees were then decided upon as follows: Active members, $2; associate members, $1; juniors, $1. The committee also recommended that the fees be paid in advance.

The question of installing stop and go traffic signals at seven intersections in the city this year will be discussed at a meeting of the City Police Commission to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the city police court room.

Chief of Police Thomas Heatley will give a report on the cost of installation and purchase of equipment. An investigation of the cost to place signals at seven intersections and install a central control at police headquarters would cost approximately $9,000.

The question of whether the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association will be permitted to hold its annual ball at the Empress Hotel will also come up for discussion. When the application was made at the last meeting, no agreement could be reached. Could the association be granted a license to hold the ball at the Empress Hotel?

Mrs. J. C. North opposed the application on the grounds that times were depressed and it would not be right to hold such a function at this time. Mayor Herbert Anscomb, however, took the attitude that it was for a worthy cause and that inasmuch as it was looked upon as a civic event, permission should be granted.

Tenders for new police uniforms will also be considered.

CITY'S PARKS ARE ADMIRER

Los Angeles Park Officials Visitors Here En Route From Convention

"Victoria's boulevard and tree planting system is as fine as any city on the coast," Van M. Griffith, Los Angeles park commissioner, declared yesterday after a tour of the city's parks and boulevards with Frank Shearer, Los Angeles park commissioner. Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the park committee of the City Council, and Alderman Alex. Peden, a member of the committee.

Mr. Griffith arrived in the city yesterday from Toronto, where he has been attending the American Institute of Park Executives' Conference.

The visitor was delighted with Victoria streets and pointed out that the residents were in the happy position of not having to put in their own boulevards here as is the case elsewhere.

INTEREST IN PARKS

Mr. Griffith's interest in parks is of a material character. Both he and his family have done much to beautify Los Angeles. His father donated the $250,000 necessary to build the Greek Theatre in Los Angeles, which seats 4,900 people, while Griffith Park is another family contribution to the city's beautification scheme.

Victoria had a splendid opportunity to become not only the garden city of Canada but also the park city of the Pacific Coast. Mr. Griffith said. Public spirited citizens and corporations have endowed this city with beautiful areas for park development, and everything should be done to follow up the programme of beautification, he declared.

Los Angeles this year has spent $2,000,000 on parks and playgrounds, he said.

More hotels for hikers are being opened in Scotland.

REVISE POLICY FOR WORKROOM
Special Emergency Meeting of Unemployed Women's Committee Held

At a special emergency meeting of the unemployed women's workroom committee, held last night at the Y.W.C.A., revision of the policy of administration was discussed. This was found necessary owing to the overcrowding of the workroom, the unexpectedly large number of women applicants who have registered for work each day, and the difficulties of financing with which the committee is, consequently, faced.

Mrs. Arthur Walsh presided and reported the general position. The various committees also reported. The treasurer reported slightly over $644 received to date, some donations having come in yesterday. Against this were shown disbursements amounting to $75 daily for the three days the workroom was in operation, exclusive of the two paid overseers. The finance committee reported having made arrangements for a lecture at the Royal Victoria Theatre by Col. the Rev. G. O. Paille, the proceeds of this to be turned into the fund.

Mrs. Tyrwhitt Drake reported for the work and materials committee. A telephone extension order was endorsed. The investigating committee, Miss Thornley, Miss Olive Snyder and Mrs. Cullum, was empowered to investigate, with the citizens' committee, conditions concerning women registered for employment. Mrs. Walsh, Miss May McRae, Miss Lola Maxwell, plus consent of all committees, were appointed as a special committee to be known as the executive committee.

Pending the testing of the ability of the needlewomen employed at the workroom, orders for the making up of new materials are not being taken. For this reason the committee last evening decided to undertake only a small part of an order given by the Children's Aid Society for new clothing, although it was stressed that private orders could easily be handled.

Seattle, was never finer than as the battered old soldier of fortune, Dominic. He sticks to "Pals First."

Dominion—"Bought," the Warner Theatre Brothers production starring Constance Bennett, now showing at the Dominion, presents a selfish, modern girl who uses the well-known "white lie" in her mad quest for the hundred—and gets the proverbial comeback. Miss Bennett is supported in her brilliant portrayal by Ben Lyon, Richard Bennett (her father), Dorothy Peterson, and many others. Archie Mayo directed.

Capitol—"High Stakes," the Will Theatre, last Mack stage success, which captivated Broadway audiences some seasons back, has been translated into a screen melodrama by RKO-Radio Pictures, and is now on the Capitol Theatre screen. Lowell Sherman, actor-director, takes the dual role in this production, as he did in "The Royal Bed" and "Bachelor Apartment."

Coliseum—Matahi, the handsome Polynesian youth, who is the hero of "Tabu," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, gets his broad and muscular shoulders from swimming, a diversification in which he spends half his waking hours. He has the physique of a Greek god.

Columbia—In order to film the screen version of "Rain or Shine," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, the famous play of circus life that broke records for attendance during its two-year run on Broadway, it was necessary for the producer, Harry Cohn, to hire an entire circus—animal, acts, clowns, equipment, big top, side show and all. The cast of this production boasts of stellar names. Joe Cook plays the leading role.

POPULAR STARS SEEN IN "MERELY MARY ANN"

Ordinarily the public doesn't think of a screen actor as doing much of anything but worrying over his work and his next part, and a bigger and better contract for next year and so on.

Still less does it visualize a player deeply engrossed in forbidding volumes about behaviorism or the functions of the subconscious, and an hour later taking on all-comers with eight-ounce gloves at a Hollywood gymnasium. Charles Farrell, however, does all these things, and does them well.

Farrell's latest screen appearance, in which he is starred with the elfin Janet Gaynor for the eighth time, is in "Merely Mary Ann," which starts at the Dominion Saturday.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

INHIBITING AN ADVERSE LEAD

In warfare, no sooner is a new and dangerous weapon devised than the experts in the art of war proceed to develop measures of counteracting the new menace. In contracting the new menace, in contract, because of the requirement that in order to score a game you must bid it, information as to honor holdings and frequently also as to distribution becomes the common property of all players at the table. This frequently points out to the defending players the vulnerable spot of the enemy's lines and when the bidding is ended a heavy barrage is laid down there which quite frequently results in defeat for the declarer. In order to remedy this situation, many expert contract players nowadays seek to bewilder their opponents by announcing the possession of strength where they are weak. This type of bidding has proved quite effective particularly in slam contracts.

Recently, in the masters' pair contest for the possession of the von Zedwitz gold cup, Mrs. Emory F. Clement, of New York, used it effectively, and assured the making of a slam which would unquestionably have been defeated but for that bid.

North and South vulnerable. East and West not vulnerable.

East—Dealer.

REALISM UNDER SEA THRILLS IN DRAMA

"Fifty Fathoms Deep," a stirring drama of deep-sea adventure, opens at the Coliseum Theatre tomorrow. Here is a picture that has human and exciting moments. Under the direction of R. William Neill, the production leaves nothing to be desired in the way of realism and the deep-sea shots are not only thrilling but decidedly interesting. The sound effects under water are marvelous. The plot is well developed dramatically.

Again Jack Holt comes through with one of his vibrant performances. Loretta Sayers is thoroughly hateful as Pinky Caldwell's deceitful wife. Although new to the screen, she has mastered a difficult assignment.

TREASURE HUNTER TAKING NO RISKS
Will Arm Ship Seeking Old Pirates' Buried Loot Against Their Modern Counterparts

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Precautions against hijackers, such as occasionally raiding liquor-laden ships, will be taken by Lieutenant-Colonel J. E. Leckie, head of the Vancouver expedition, which, in a few weeks will sail to Cocos Island to search for the buried treasure of ancient pirates.

Colonel Leckie has communicated with the Department of National Defence, seeking permission to arm his ship against eventualities, either at sea or on Cocos Island. Colonel Leckie wants the use of machine guns and "pom-poms," which are in the arsenal at Esquimalt.

Even if this permission is not granted, the ship will be armed against possible sea raiders. Colonel Leckie has already arranged to carry privately-owned machine guns and numerous rifles.

It was stated that certain discrepancies had been discovered, and two officials of the department, Walter Firkins, assistant to the court clerk, and C. J. Biddis, accountant, were suspended until the audit is completed.

VICTORIA GRIDDLERS TO MEET VACS TOMORROW

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson And Mrs. Hutchinson To Meet for Honors

Will Battle for "A" Class Title at Oak Bay Links Today—Former Downs Mrs. Parry and Latter Mrs. Godfrey—"B" Class Final Carded

Only Mrs. J. Hutchinson remains between Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and her third title of the season. The "A" class titleholder, who has won through to the final of the "A" class championship of the Victoria Golf Club yesterday afternoon by disposing of Mrs. Walter Parry, the city's star left-hander, 3 and 1, while Mrs. Hutchinson reached the last round by eliminating Mrs. Godfrey, after one of the merriest battles of the tournament, at the nineteenth hole.

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the pair will start their championship duel. With both finalists playing their usual brand of golf, one of the closest finals in years is expected. Following the final, the trophies will be presented to the winners in the clubhouse. Mrs. A. C. Hurdick will present the "A" class silverware, while Mrs. Hew Paterson will hand over the "B" class trophy.

Mrs. H. A. Ross, medalist, and Mrs. H. F. Hepburn will battle it out for the "B" class crown. The former defeated Mrs. Harold Wilson, 8 and 2, and the latter put out Miss Nora Wilson, 5 and 3. Both winners displayed good golf and well deserved their victories.

In the Mrs. Sayward-Wilson-Mrs. Parry match, both players shot consistent golf from the first tee to the sixteenth green, where the fixture ended. Mrs. Parry was off her putting as she three-putted several greens where she had great chances to win. Mrs. Sayward-Wilson was one up at the turn and added her margin as the match continued.

BRILLIANT RALLY

Trailing behind at the half-way mark by a one-hole margin and being down at the twelfth hole, Mrs. Hutchinson executed a brilliant rally to turn defeat into victory.

TWO CHAMPS TO MEET IN GOLF FINAL

Margery Kirkham and Ada MacKenzie to Battle for Closed Crown

SEMI-FINALS END ON LAST GREEN

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP).—The eighteen-hole final for the ninth annual Canadian women's closed golf crown will bring together Margery Kirkham, of Montreal, defending champion, and Ada MacKenzie, of Toronto, who has captured the championship three times in her long career as a star.

They won the right to contest tomorrow for the 1931 championship by defeating courageous opponents today, both by one up. Miss Kirkham won over Mrs. C. E. Eddis, Toronto, while Miss MacKenzie advanced over Mrs. E. W. Whittington, another Toronto contender.

Both Miss Kirkham and Miss MacKenzie made fine approaches on the eighteenth hole to win their matches with par three. The losers made a game effort, just missing their first putts for halves, which would have prolonged the contests. There was little to choose between the contestants in either semi-final. First one, then the other took the lead, but never for a safe margin established. Both Miss Kirkham and Mrs. Eddis had approximately 87s against a par of 77. Miss MacKenzie and Mrs. Whittington were 81 and 89, respectively.

CANTONWINE WALKS ON KRUSE'S TOES AND CAPTURES GO

BELLINGHAM, Oct. 8 (AP).—Howard Cantonwine, Iowa matman, literally "walked" on Bob Kruse, Portland grappler, to win the main event of a wrestling card here last night.

It all happened in the fifth round when Cantonwine trod heavily on Kruse's toes. Kruse had adopted the recent tactic of bracing his feet in appearing barefoot, consequently when Cantonwine's foot descended on his toes Kruse grabbed for the injured members. While he was soothing his toes, Cantonwine hit him with a flying tackle and put him out of the match.

SALT LAKE MATMAN CHASED FROM RING BY CLEVELAND FANS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8 (AP).—Jack Washburn, Salt Lake City heavyweight wrestler, was pursued from the ring last night by enraged followers of George Calza, Italian heavy, to whom he lost the decision on fouls for persistent use of the strangle hold.

Washburn was whisked upstairs by an elevator boy. Calza followers tore down the partition about his dressing room in search of him. They finally went home, vowing further vengeance for his ring tactics. The match lasted six minutes.

V.A.C. TAKES LEAD IN BIG FOUR RUGBY

Vancouver Gridders Defeat New Westminster by 12 to 1 Score

WINNERS SCORE TWO TOUCHDOWNS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 (CP).—V.A.C. went into undisputed possession of first place in the Big Four Canadian Rugby League here last night when they downed New Westminster Dodekas 12 to 1 at Athletic Park. Dodekas had a game battle but the elusive "Cookie" Shields and a smashing line attack proved too much for them. The Vacs scored a touchdown in the second quarter which was converted, and another in the fourth which went unconverted.

Their other point came when a Dodekas halfback was roughed behind his own goal line late in the third quarter.

New Westminster's lone point came early in the third quarter when Niblo attempted a drop kick which failed to clear the VAC goal-bar but went to the deadline.

Play was pretty evenly divided during the first quarter, with neither team having any marked edge in play.

The green-shirted squad started things going in the second when Shields went around the end for twenty yards. Northey, Vac quarterback, slipped through centre for a touchdown. Shields converted for the extra point with a place kick.

The score at half-time stood 6-0 for Vac.

Shortly after the third quarter Niblo tried for a field goal, which went to the deadline for one point. Just before the period ended Shields lifted a high punt behind Dodekas' goal line which was taken by a New Westminster back, but he was roughed before he could get away.

SHIELDS GETS TOUCH V.A.C. put the game safely away early in the fourth period. The Green-shirts ploughed their way up the field to Dodekas' thirty-five-yard line. Northey booted an onside kick which Shields took and gained fifteen yards for V.A.C.'s second major score of the game. A place kick for the converted followed.

The remainder of the period was scoreless, with New Westminster fighting hard. Dodekas used a number of forward passes and came back several times for big gains. A number, however, went uncompleted, and several were intercepted by V.A.C. The final whistle blew with play in midfield.

V.A.C. journey to Victoria on Saturday to meet the Capital squad.

Varsity Hoopmen To Make Tour of Up-Island Towns

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—The Senior "A" basketball quintette of the University of British Columbia, holder of the Canadian crown, will usher in the 1931-32 season in Nanaimo Friday night, when the students oppose the Coast City squad in an exhibition tilt. On the following evening the Varsity team will travel to Alberni, where they will be the guests of honor at the official opening of the new gymnasium in the Island city.

Of the champions, Laurie Nicholson, "Pip" Campbell, "Cy" Lee and Ed Armstrong are working on the forward line, with Bob Osborne and Frank Alpen at guard. Alpen is having some trouble with an old knee injury and is a doubtful starter in Friday's tilt.

The group for the Island jaunt will include the six members of last year's squad, Lorne Falconer, manager, and Dr. Thorpe, while one additional player may be taken.

Esquimalt High Wins Playing a fine brand of soccer, Esquimalt's High School defeated Saanich High School in an exhibition fixture at Pinnery Road Park on Wednesday by a 4-3 score.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON The Oldest House in the United States—Almost 400 years ago the great Spanish conquistador Coronado, who was the first white man to explore any of the Southwestern region of the United States, established his headquarters on the land that is now within the boundaries of Santa Fe, New Mexico. The oldest house, built of stone and mud, was originally the home of the Indian Chief of Tiguera. Subsequent to 1540 Coronado and many other governors occupied this unique house, until the Old Palace was built about 1620. This aged edifice still stands in Santa Fe and is one of the historic attractions of that city. Please address all queries to Cartoonist Ripley, c/o King Features, New York City, N.Y.

LOCALS TO FIELD POWERFUL SQUAD AGAINST LEADERS

Twenty-Five Men Will Be in Uniform for Important Grid Fixture at Royal Athletic Park Tomorrow Afternoon—Victoria Squad in Fine Shape and Confident of Victory

Many New Plays to Be Used by Caps; Record Crowd Expected

Determined to stop the juggernaut of the Vancouver Athletic Club's gridmen, Manager Ernie Cook and Coach Doug Roberts will send the most powerful squad of Canadian rugger ever assembled here against the highly touted Mainlanders, tomorrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, when the curtain will go up on the local Big Four schedule. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and a record crowd is expected to watch the Caps battle the undefeated visiting ironmen.

It will be the locals' second game of the season. Last week Victoria journeyed to Vancouver to open their campaign against New Westminster. Caps lost the decision, but a ruling by the referee, which ultimately meant defeat for Victoria, was protested and it was upheld by both the British Columbia and Big Four Unions.

CRITICS LAUD LOCALS Canadian rugger critics, who have watched Victoria and the other teams in action, concede the local squad a great chance to win the Big Four championship this year. Several Vancouver men declare Victoria is the "team to beat." Against New Westminster, Vancouver sportswriters stated that the Mainlanders were the play and had not the faulty decision been against the Islanders, defeat would have been turned into victory. Victoria was also handicapped on its first appearance under floodlights.

Victoria's manager and coach are jubilant over the chances of handling V.A.C. its initial setback of the year. "If we can stop 'Cookie' Shields, its great kicker and ball carrier, we will beat Vancouver," declared Manager Cook last night. Shields was the big noise in V.A.C.'s victory over the Royal City on Wednesday evening and he will be a marked man tomorrow.

Renewed Confidence At New York Buys Eastern Exchanges

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP).—Strong financial markets today reflected nationwide approval of measures now under way for the restoration of confidence.

Stocks, bonds and commodities rallied impressively as bankers speeded the $500,000,000 credit corporation toward completion. Trading in most directions was quiet until late in the business day. Then it picked up substantially and all markets closed strong.

Transactions totaled 2,867,930 shares.

The rise in shares was well distributed. Auburn celebrated with a 22-point sprint. American Telephone jumped 7 1/2, U. S. Steel 1 1/2, American Can 5 3/8, General Electric 3 1/8, Westinghouse 4 1/8, General Motors 2 3/4, Woolworth 4 3/8, Dupont 6, New York Central 6 3/8, Atchafalpa 5 1/2, Norfolk & Western 6, Southern Pacific 5 1/2, Union Pacific 6 7/8, Consolidated Gas and North American 5 each, American Tobacco 7 1/2, Bethlehem Steel 2 7/8 and Sears-Roebuck 3 1/4.

The increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate to 2 1/2 per cent from 1 1/2 took Wall Street by surprise. It was the first rise since August, 1929.

Another surprise was the drop of $171,000,000 in brokers' loans, the largest decrease in some time. It would appear that the stock market had been put on nearly on a straight cash basis as is possible.

Foreign exchanges were mixed and generally showed narrow movements. Sterling was about steady, although it closed half a cent after a 2c advance. The final rate was $4.85 1/2.

The bond market continued to advance today, although a moderate reactionary tendency appeared in the foreign.

Closing prices were generally higher than on Wednesday.

DISCUSS POWER AND HIGHWAYS

Ladysmith Council Urging Start of Work on Cowichan Lake Road

LADYSMITH, Oct. 8.—The City Council held its regular meeting last night, with a large group around the table. Replying to the communication from the special session of the City Council last Thursday asking for an offer for the supply of power in bulk without a K.V.A. charge, W. P. Macdonald, manager of the Nanaimo Electric Light, Heating & Power Co., expressed surprise at the council's objection to the K.V.A. charge. He felt if the proper significance of the charge was explained to the council, they would see its inclusion in a contract would react to the city's benefit. In the meantime, however, the council's letter was referred to the head office of the utilities company for a decision.

ROAD TO LAKE

A communication from the deputy minister of public works acknowledged the receipt of the petition from Ladysmith asking for the immediate start of work on the Ladysmith-Cowichan Lake Road. He explained that as the Dominion Government insisted that all relief work be confined strictly to highways of national and provincial importance, and as there was some doubt that the projected road could be included in that category, until definite could be decided upon at the moment. The matter was being taken up with the district engineer, however, and following these discussions the project would be placed before the minister.

The council decided that the Ladysmith-Cowichan proposal was of paramount importance to the city and the island, and representations to this effect will be made to the district engineer and the Minister of Public Works.

FOR PUBLIC PARK

Another petition recently sponsored by the City Council and forwarded to Victoria, asking for the creation of a public park on the lapsed Indian lands at the head of Ladysmith harbor, including the grass flats locally known as Ivy's Green, was acknowledged by the Department of Lands. This proposal is receiving favorable consideration by the department and the official decision will be announced later.

A resolution from the city of Burnaby, suggesting that labor costs in relief work should be wholly borne by the Federal Government to permit of an equitable system of Federal taxation in absorbing the burden of repaying the loan.

Retrieved from the table for further discussion, the resolution from the Automobile Club of British Columbia, proposing the creation of a provincial highways commission to remove road building from the sphere of politics, was again tabled. Alderman Davidson remarked in support of his motion to that effect, that the Government had enough worries concerning roads for the present.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

The Twitchtails Live High
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

To get the very best you can is my advice to beast and bird.

—Twitchtail the Ground Squirrel.

Twitchtail and his family live up to that belief. That is how he has made his home under the big stone where he had so easily escaped from Flip the Terrier. You see, that big stone was close to a field of grain, and it wasn't far from an orchard. Moreover, that stone was in a field of alfalfa and Twitchtail and his family are very fond of grain, fruit and alfalfa, in addition to many other things, including a variety of plants, insects and a never-meet when they can get it.

Twitchtail had been born in a snug home on the slopes of a hill beyond the orchard. When he and Mrs. Twitchtail started out into the Great World to make a home for themselves they had first wandered about exploring. It was Twitchtail who had discovered the big stone in the alfalfa field near a corner where the field of wheat adjoined the alfalfa field and the orchard adjoined both. It was quite a distance from their former home on the hillside, and Twitchtail, when he had been living where they were trees and bushes and plenty of places to hide.

Mrs. Twitchtail had wanted to live on that hillside where she had always lived. It had been hard work for Twitchtail to induce her to try this place. He had found, "My dear," said he, "we can dig out home under this stone and it will be just as safe as any home we could find on that hillside. And then think how we can live in food is the most important thing next to safety, especially when the children come along. Here on our very doorstep is one of the things we like best (he meant the alfalfa) and it is only a little way to that delicious wheat and not much farther to the fruit we want. We never have lived as well on that hillside as we will here. When that ripe wheat is it will be no labor at all to fill our storehouses. There is a better place for a Ground Squirrel home."

He said so much that Mrs. Twitchtail, with many misgivings, at last consented and the home was made under the big stone. They took a great deal of pains with it, and it contained a snug bedroom and several storehouses. Then they cut little paths through the alfalfa to the wheat field and over to the orchard, and as the alfalfa and the wheat grew they were quite as well hidden as ever they had been on the hillside. The big stone made a wonderful lookout. Twitchtail spent a lot of time sitting on top of it when there was no work to be done, watching for the possible approach of enemies. "My dear," he would say, "I can see so far in all directions that no one can get near without being seen. We could have a better place in which to live."

Mrs. Twitchtail finally came to feel the same way and confessed that she was glad he had insisted on making their home there. "I knew you would be," declared Twitchtail. "I knew you would be."

Then the babies came along, ten of them, and Mrs. Twitchtail was more glad than ever. It was a relief not to have to leave them long while they were helpless in order to get their own food. She could run out and get all she needed with a few feet of the doorway. Then when they got big enough to go out themselves and began to get their own food the fact that they could get it right close at hand saved a lot of worry. And because there was so much and such good food, the very best of food, these young Twitchtails grew fast and were strong and healthy.

It was only when the alfalfa and the wheat were harvested that the Twitchtails doubted the wisdom of their choice of a home. Then they did have a few bad days and kept inside their home most of the time while the men and machines were harvesting the crops. When at last the harvest was over they felt very much exposed for awhile. But a new crop of alfalfa soon sprang up and grew rapidly, and it was very sweet and tender. And over in the wheat field there was plenty of grain left on the ground, and always there was the fruit in the orchard. So altogether they were satisfied that they had made no mistake.

The next story, "Farmer Brown's Boy Sees Twitchtail."

DANISH LECTURER CHARMS AUDIENCE

"Scandinavian Peoples" Subject of Dr. Peter Manniche, Noted Danish Speaker

"Idealism is the fundamental note in the make-up of all Scandinavian peoples," stated Dr. Peter Manniche, founder and principal of the International College of Elsinore, Denmark, in an illustrated address at the Metropolitan Church Wednesday night.

In discussing the characteristics of these different races, he claimed that a Dane manages by witty words, a Swede by beautiful words and a Norwegian by big words. "It is the constant struggle between awe of nature and self-assertiveness that makes the Scandinavian such a hardy pioneer and such a dauntless mariner," said Dr. Manniche.

During the course of his address the noted Danish lecturer gave a brief history of the founding of the folk schools, their purpose and their utility. Dr. Manniche informed his audience that the difference between the functioning of the folk school and the ordinary school was that the average school asks the pupils questions, while the folk school tries to solve the problem of the student.

Co-operative trading was one of the chief savors of the country, the speaker stated, and it was only by the combined efforts of all that the small land holders kept the individual prosperous.

The lantern slides, shown in this city for the first time, were of exceptionally high value from an educational standpoint, and gave many of those present a totally new conception of Danish civilization, scenery and education.
